'Step Two'

“Came to believe that a power greater than ourselves could restore us to sanity.”

He said: I have recognized this as a very subjective Step. First we are given the latitude to define a Power greater than ourselves and then we have to recognize our steps toward sanity. The line between sanity and insanity is not a well defined border and should only be defined separately. Since I cannot define your God, or judge your sanity, I will share my journey. Actually, I find it an easier task to explain my relationship with a Higher Power.

I have always believed in God, even during the most scientifically analytical phase of my life. My mother was a strong influence, with her commitment to the church, which was balanced by my father feeling closest to God while fishing on a lake. What has changed in me is my relationship with God. As I surrendered my will it was not so much like relinquishing, as in during a war, as it was committing to an intimate partnership with the God of my understanding. My God has not created me to remain idle in reverence and acceptance, but challenges me to seriously consider my qualities and to work toward a full understanding of the gifts given to me by God.

Restored to sanity ... really? Was I insane? Absolutely!

My insanity defined: Before I came to AA, I had a year of sobriety. Having stopped on my own, I took a vacation and visited an old drinking buddy. My plan was to drink with him on vacation and then return to my non drinking ways. IT DID NOT WORK THAT WAY. Time after time I would pray/beg, “Why did I ever start? Why can't I stop again?” ~INSANITY.

This went on for several years until I reached my bottom, walked through the doors of AA and learned about step 2; Coming to believe and doing the work necessary to create a lasting sober and happy life ~SANITY. The Promises fulfilled!

I live today restored to sanity and continue to work,

She said: When I was a young child, I was told that independence meant relying on oneself and NEVER to ask for help. For example, “Do it yourself or don't do it at all” and “In everything you choose to do, do it to the very best or don't even try.” These two belief ideas formed a type of thinking in me at a very young age. First, I must do everything on my own and I am NEVER to ask for help. Second, if I do not succeed then why try as it would only bring failure and disappointment. Believing this type of mentality destroyed any dreams, hope, or desires I had and made me feel unworthy, unacceptable, and undesired.

In AA no one demands that I believe anything! No one tells me to believe their way or I am thrown out! The suggestions I hear are: Keep an open mind and substitute my old belief for a Higher Power that loves and cares for my well being. I am not bad trying to be good – I am sick trying to get well.

Believing in a Higher Power means that I am NOT relying on my own understanding. The definition of belief is a state of habit of mind in which trust or confidence is placed in some person or thing. So for me the question for Step Two is really, “Do I trust that my Higher Power is doing for me what I am unable to do for myself (restore my sanity)?”

Either I believe or I don't! When I relied upon myself, I lived a miserable existence filled with alcohol, drugs, and demoralizing acts. I choose to believe in a Power greater than myself today because I am worthy of the promises of a better life; filled with friends, joy, serenity, usefulness, and unconditional love.

Step Two gives me the confidence that I do NOT need to know all the answers and that relying on my Higher Power is the best solution to everyday issues. This belief keeps me sober and keeps me in recovery. I don't have to figure it all out right now! I can trust

He Said: (cont) to grow and to give to the program where I began my journey. Now if I ever find myself getting complacent and forgetting about my past, I hold fast to one final thought: When I was drinking I never felt I drank too much to drive a car! I am one of the fortunate who by the Grace of God never injured or killed anyone. Reviewing this behavior, I know it was pure insanity and the thought still scares me to this moment. I work daily to never forget it.

She Said: (cont) the process! I will NOT give up before the miracle!

I came, I came to, and I came to believe!

AA ARCHIVES

This Month Our History Highlight:

December 24th, 1745: Benjamin Rush was born in Byberry Township, Pennsylvania; Signer of the Declaration of Independence and the young nation's foremost physician of his time. Dr. Rush in 1784 wrote the most influential pamphlet on the subject of drinking, "An Inquiry Into The Effects of Ardent Spirits Upon The Human Body & Mind."

Dr. Rush was the first one to suggest alcoholism as a disease, which produces an "appetite" or "craving" in the afflicted person, "Once addicted even a saint would have a hard time controlling themselves." He wrote his description of chronic drunkenness as it was a progressive condition.

December holds some other interesting dates in our History:

December 1873: The Women's Christian Temperance Union (WCTU) is founded at Fredonia New York.

December 1902: Book "Varieties Of Religious Experience" written by William James is published; One of eleven books (including the Bible) that influenced how the Big Book would be written. Bill said, "William James, long dead in his grave, was a founder of A.A."

December 1933: The last day of prohibition in the U.S. made little difference to either Dr. Bob or Bill W., who had been drinking beyond their control for years.

December 11, 1940: Bill W.'s sobriety date at Towns Hospital while he was under the care of Dr. Silkworth.

December 1944: The 7th issue of The Grapevine carried Lois Wilson's story (Bill's wife) telling how she came to live by A.A. principles herself, not just for Bill. The same issue carried letters from children of A.A. members relating how A.A. had changed their lives. Before the formation of Al-Anon and AlAteen The Grapevine regularly printed stories by spouses and children.

PRAASA - the Pacific Region Alcoholics Anonymous Service Assembly - is a yearly assembly held in different parts of the Pacific Region of Alcoholics Anonymous.

The purpose of PRAASA is to develop greater unity among the members, groups, and areas of the Pacific Region; to encourage the exchange of ideas and experiences; and to provide an opportunity for members to discuss pertinent aspects of A.A. The Assembly and the PRAASA Committee should always foster the Recovery, Unity and Service legacies of Alcoholics Anonymous.

Tradition II:

For our group purpose there is but one ultimate authority – a loving God as He may express Himself in our group conscience. Our leaders are but trusted servants; they do not govern.

- Do I criticize or do I trust and support my group officers, AA committees, and office workers? Newcomers? Old-timers?
- Am I absolutely trustworthy, even in secret, with AA Twelfth Step jobs or other AA responsibility?
- Do I look for credit in my AA jobs? Praise for my AA ideas?
- Do I have to save face in group discussion, or can I yield in good spirit to the group conscience and work cheerfully along with it?
- Although I have been sober a few years, am I still willing to serve my turn in AA chores?
- In group discussions, do I sound off about matters on which I have no experience and little knowledge?
